FRANCE WANTS TO CUT DOWN DEBT TO UNITED STATES

WOULD LIKE US TO TAKE FEW BILLION WORTH-LESS BONDS.

HUGHES' POSITION

Germany's Capacity to Pay Has Nothing to Do With Debts to Us.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1932 by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington.—The reaction here to the cable accounts of the Premier's Conference in Paris is that the expected has happened and that France under the guise of an attempt to make Germany pay the maximum is really trying to cut down her war debt to Great Britain and the United States.

Such a plan will not succeed so far as the United States is concerned. For many weeks the proposal has been anticipated. President Harding and Secretary Hughes have made it plain through diplomatic channels and publicly through the press that what Germany shall pay will be determined by the United States and not by Great Britain and France. The United States are not interested in the war debt of Germany.

France's suggestion that the 25 billion dollars of indemnity fixed by the London conference a year ago as the amount Germany should pay be reduced to twelve billion dollars with the understanding that the bonds for the remaining ten billion shall be used to cancel French indebtedness to the United States and Great Britain is looked upon here as bordering on the absurd.

"The capacity of Germany to pay is not at all affected by the reduction of the debt," says Mr. Hughes. "The indebtedness does not diminish Germany's capacity to pay and its removal would not increase her capacity."

What Germany Can Pay.

For example, if France had been able to finance her part of the war without borrowing a cent from us, without paying taxes and without loans, the problem of what Germany could pay would be exactly the same. The only difference is that the debtors to the United States are concerned, they have unsettled credit balances, and their condition and capacity to pay cannot be properly judged until the amount that can be realized on the amount due on page 2.

BLAINE RETURNS JUDGE BECKER TO GREEN CO. BENCH

OFFICIAL OUSTED DURING WAR IS REINSTATED BY GOVERNOR.

FOLLOWS SHERRON

"Espionage Law Abused," Says Executive in Boosting Indicted Monroe Man.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

MONROE.—John M. Becker, ousted during the war from the Green county probate judgeship, which he had held for 20 years, has been returned to the bench through his appointment Thursday by Governor Blaine to fill the vacancy caused by the death last week of Judge John L. Sherron.

The Janesville Gazette predicted the appointment Tuesday that the case was closed in Madison, although it was known Becker was a strong La Follette supporter during the war.

"Partial Restitution."

Governor Blaine, in announcing the appointment of Becker, said: "John M. Becker was first elected county judge for Green county in 1917, and was twice after elected the same office three terms in succession. He was removed from office during the war because of a wrongful indictment and conviction under the espionage law. From that conviction he appealed to the United States Court of Appeals and such court set aside the conviction and he was completely vindicated."

"That the espionage law was misused and abused during the war, there is no doubt. There was a wrong committed against Mr. Becker, and my appointment to the office from which he was removed makes possible a partial restitution of his rights."

The executive appointment marks a victorious conclusion to a comeback fight Becker has made since his removal.

Reparations Meet Is Broken Off as Nations Disagree

BULLETIN
Paris.—The allied reparations conference, which broke up shortly before 7 p. m. Thursday.

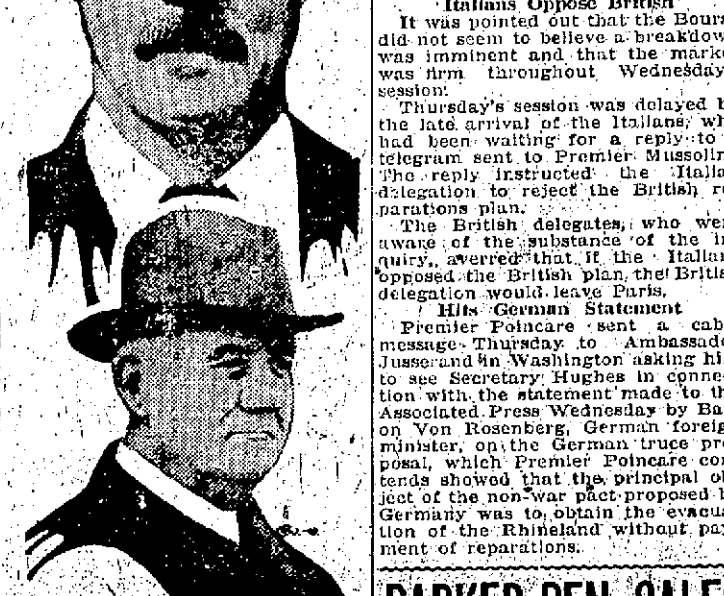

There was, however, still an inclination among seasoned observers of similar conferences to hope, if not believe, that some eleventh hour solution might be found to avoid a rupture.

The foreign editor of Le Matin revealed that there was once such a deadlock between Lloyd George and Briand over the Silesian question and that the same Marquis Doria, Torinese, was sitting as Italy's representative in the present conference, found a way out of the dilemma by inducing the parties to refer their problem to the league of nations.

Italians Oppose British.

It was pointed out that the Bourse did not seem to believe a breakdown was imminent and that the market went through Thursday's session.

Thursday's session was delayed by the late arrival of the Italians, who had been waiting for a report on the Italian delegation to Premier Mussolini. The reply instructed the Italian delegation to reject the British reparations plan, delegates, who were aware of the substance of the inquiry, averred that if the Italians opposed the British plan, the British delegation would leave Paris.

Mr. Carson told of the sale possibilities in the Latin countries, which he said were being developed by the United States has overcome German competition, has only one rival, Great Britain—and is outstripping the British in the sale of pens.

FORGER RETURNS TO SANITARIUM

Albany Youth, Caught Here, Found to be in Need of Treatment.

Disposition was made Thursday of the worthless check, cashed against Stewart E. Conway, 22, Albany, when Acting Municipal Judge Charles Lange held the charge on and committed the youth to the custody of the Albany Psychiatric Hospital, a lunatic asylum, from which he had escaped Monday night. Owen Atkinson, Albany, Conway's uncle, was to take him back to the institution Thursday afternoon.

Relatives intervened for Conway when he was arraigned in municipal court here Wednesday afternoon, and he was released to his home. He had escaped from the institution where he had been taken for treatment of his unbalanced condition. Albany friends were aware of his leaving when he telephoned Charles Webb at 2 p. m. Tuesday, that he had killed one of the attendants and made his getaway. It developed later that Conway was taking some of the latter's clothes.

West to Milwaukee.

Making his way to Milwaukee, he was taken to the attendants' charge to a Ford rental agency and secured the coupe in which he drove to Janesville. Running out of money here, he telephoned the store and his arrest followed when it was found he had signed a pseudo name.

"Mrs. Myrtle Conway is heartbroken over the escape of her son," said a high school friend of the Albany boy, who had been in the Albany high school in 1919 and who is said to have done queer things which indicated his mind was unbalanced, as was determined by three Milwaukee specialists recently.

Three months ago, Conway was roaming about the state on his motorcycle and was knocked unconscious when his vehicle struck a bridge near Stevens Point and he lay unconscious for six hours before he was discovered. Physicians declare that veritable insanity had been knocked out of place in the accident which partially accounts for his unbalanced condition.

Recently he was summoned into Justice C. M. Burger court at Albany for reckless driving and was released because of his condition. Justice Briggs said that the young man seems to think that he has a "right to cash checks as long as he has a crown moving toward the mine, some of whom had guns."

"I heard someone say, 'We don't want to have any trouble, and two men said they were going to the mine and try to get the nonunion workers to quit."

"The crowd then moved toward the mine and, as they were advancing, they were shot at from the mine. The first shot was fired on the mine. The witness said that when he first saw the crowd, he had five workers who had fled from the pit and he took two of them to Marion and put them on a train going out of the county."

30 MAY BE LOST AS BRIDGE FALLS INTO RIVER FLOOD

SCORES ARE HURLED INTO STREAM AT KELLO, WASHINGTON.

BOATS SAVE MANY

Tragedy Occurs During Traffic Jam; Trucks, Wagons, Cars Dumped Into Water.

(By Associated Press.)

Kello, Wash.—Names of eight missing persons were known while estimates of the number lost ran as high as 30 when rescue parties resumed Thursday their search of the wreckage strewn flood waters of the Cowlitz river into which the old suspension bridge here, bearing scores of men and women, collapsed at 5 o'clock last night.

From 50 to 100 pedestrians, one truck and at least ten passenger automobiles were on the bridge when it fell. The structure gave way in the middle of a traffic jam, caused by a stalled car.

Boats Rescue Scores.

Most of the persons on the bridge were thrown into the swirling waters and many were picked up by boats or swam ashore. After dark, efforts to recover bodies were futile, though the river steamer Pomona, lured by the hope that there might be life in the debris, breasted the swift current during the night to play a searchlight over the scene. But early this morning no bodies had been found.

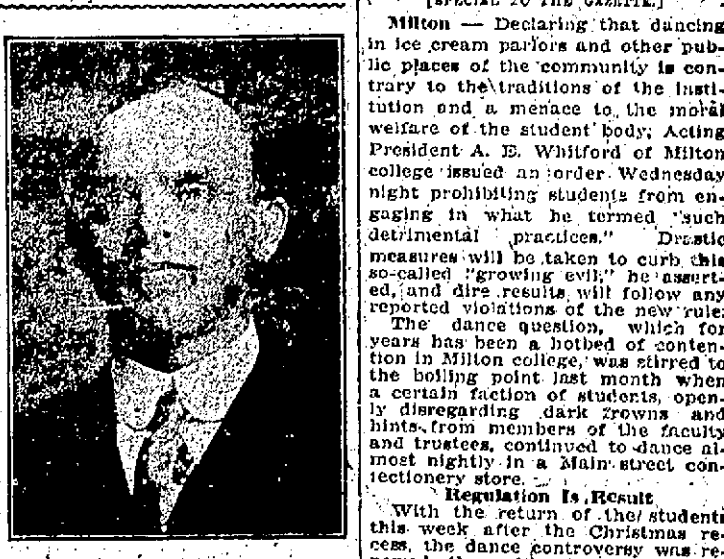

Of those rescued, one was fatally hurt and died this morning and another was believed fatally injured. Six others were taken from the water seriously hurt.

Cable Support Buckles.

The bridge connected East and West Kelso. A cable support buckled and the bridge threw wagons, automobiles and wagons and their passengers into the torrent, swollen by recent floods. Many leaped to safety as the span sank.

Death of a woman, who was hurled from the bridge, was announced Thursday that 20 to 25 bodies and 15 to 18 automobiles were in the river.

Dancing Handed Solid Wallop by Milton College

A. E. Whitford.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

MILTON.—Declaring that dancing in ice cream parlors and other public places of the community is contrary to the traditions of the institution and a menace to the moral welfare of the student body, Acting President A. E. Whitford of Milton College issued an order Wednesday night prohibiting students from engaging in what he termed "such detrimental practices."

Disciplinary measures will be taken to curb this so-called "growing evil," he asserted, and dire results will follow any reported violations of the new rule.

The violation of the new rule, years has been a hotbed of controversy in Milton college, was stirred to the boiling point last month when a certain faction of students, open to discarding dark rumors and hints from members of the faculty and trustees, continued to dance almost nightly in a Main street confectionery store.

With the return of the students this week after the Christmas recess, the dance controversy was renewed. The ultimate result, being issued Wednesday night at a meeting of about 80 students, alumni and others interested in seeing the problem settled once and for all, was a resolution passed by the student body.

E. F. Davis, Jr., proprietor of the ice cream parlor, frequented by the dancers, was summoned Tuesday night before a committee of college trustees, who failed utterly in trying to influence him to prohibit dancing in his store.

"There is a photograph and also a piano in my store," he said, "and any student is welcome to play and dance. I have no connection with Milton college or its rules, and

Taking of Testimony Expected to Start Friday Morning in Iowa Trial.

Charles City, Ia.—When recess was called at 11 a. m. in the murder trial of Edward Kneeskern, Cassalia, accused of slaying Irene Van Brocklin, prospects were bright that the jury would be selected before adjournment Thursday night. Testimony started at the opening of court Friday morning. D. D. Murphy completed questioning the panel of 16 which had been examined by the state at the noon session. It was excused for admitted prejudice.

The defense withdrew a challenge against the only woman on the panel, Mrs. Lizzie Jones, who had shown signs of having been misled by the question when she stated her opinion was not "exactly formed."

Two additional veniremen were drawn and questioned in the afternoon and will be given over to action of challenges.

HAMPSHIRE SWINE RAISERS ORGANIZE

Promotion Work Divided Up Among Holstein Breeders of County.

Form First County Development Association in Wisconsin.

Having set objectives for county development, the Rock County Holstein Breeders' association has divided up the program of work among its various committees. Each committee has been assigned definite tasks as its obligation towards the advancement and service of the county association.

The calf club committee is headed by E. F. Cook, Milton, with J. A. Craig, E. L. Benedict, Arthur Tolleson and Wade Woodward. The Holstein organization is but have at least 100 boys and girls in its calf club this year.

To further cow testing association record work a committee composed of Harold Ward, Avon, chairman; Henry Wisland, Rock, secretary; E. L. Benedict and Archie Culen has been appointed. As soon as the county-wide bovine tuberculosis test is completed this committee is expected to cooperate with the county agent and other breed associations in forming additional testing associations.

Blooded Size Campaign

Frank Milbrandt, Evansville, is chairman of the committee named to work out a campaign in cooperation with the other county agricultural agencies to rid the county of scrub breeds, both grade and registered, but it is hoped to have a high record of good type on every Holstein farm in Rock county. This campaign has been termed one of the major activities.

Organization of the county Holstein show herd to be exhibited at the fair and for an improved exhibit at the Rock county fair has been assigned to a committee composed of John L. Fisher, chairman; Frank Milbrandt, J. W. Jones, Harold Ward and A. G. Russell.

An improvement is to be sought in the public sales of the county, two in number, by having only quality animals properly fitted. This committee is composed of Henry Wisland Jr., Beloit, chairman; John L. Fisher, Rock, secretary; Archie Reid Jr. and A. G. McGinty. The private sale committee has as its members, John W. Jones, secretary of the county association; E. L. Benedict, J. Harold Ward, Orrie Steel, J. W. Robbins, and W. H. Latta, all the directors, as members.

It is hoped to increase the membership to more than 200 members, all interested and working for the advancement of the breed and welfare of the Rock county. A series of group meetings has been arranged in all parts of the county at which time the results of the 1922 association will be discussed with farmers and the 1923 work detailed. The membership committee has E. L. Benedict, Clinton, as chairman with Archie Reid Jr., J. W. Jones, J. A. Craig, E. F. Cook, Harold Ward, Henry Wisland Jr., Orrie Steel, Arthur Tolleson and W. H. This committee is headed by Arthur Tolleson, chairman, with Harold Ward, Orrie Steel, W. H. Latta and J. T. Hooper as members.

The Rock county Holstein association has set before its committees a big program of work. It is expected that the association will "put it over" under the county slogan—"Rock County First!"

BUREAU OFFICERS ELECTED FOR ROCK TOWNSHIP AT AFTON

Canvassing is being completed in Rock county for the election of county-wide campaign to establish Rock as an accredited area, following a Farm Bureau meeting held in Afton, Wednesday night. With the exception of four townships, favorable reports have been received from all the 20 townships in Rock county. Magnolia is one of the townships to reach the 50 per cent objective, both for and against the county wide test.

Where at least 75 per cent of the cattle owners have not been obtained in a school district, the committee is urging township representatives to make canvasses to the majority of signers in each district, if possible. There were 30 present at the Afton meeting and petition carriers named. The meeting was freely discussed, both for and against the county wide test and it was brought out that unless Rock made the test at an early date, the time was not far distant when all farmers would have to test and accept less indemnity. Twenty-six states in addition to the 14 already tested, are being lined up in Wisconsin and it is but a matter of a few years until every county in the state is forced to make the test to have a clean state.

"We took it was a good time now, when there was opportunity to obtain all the money possible under the law for all losses," declared Secretary H. C. Hemmingway.

The officers elected for Rock township were: Charles Teubert, chairman; Ehler Brinkman, vice chairman; Otto Uhling, secretary.

The delegates to the annual Farm Bureau meeting to be held in Janesville, January 25, were: Charles O'Leary, William Gole, Edward Tracey, Ehler Brinkman and Otto Uhling.

Mr. Uhling was again named to handle the livestock shipments through the Afton association.

A series of township programs will be put on for the Bureau in Afton this winter.

MAKE BID FOR WIS. MEETING FOR DUROC SWINE ASSOCIATION

An effort is being made to secure the meeting of the Wisconsin Duroc Jersey swine breeders' association for Rock county to be held in Janesville the night of February 26. This is a day before the sale to be held by the Rock county association in the pavilion at the Rock county fair grounds.

Officers of the association have been unable to come to an agreement on the place to hold the meeting and a bid is being made for Rock county.

Standard Oil Earned $250,000

Washington—Not earnings of more than a quarter of a billion dollars by the Standard Oil company of New York, since the supreme court's decision in 1911, were shown in statements presented at the senate oil investigation by A. E. Hinch, comptroller of the corporation.

Chairman La Follette took charge of the questioning of Hinch and E. C. Cole, one of the three vice-presidents of the Standard Oil company of New York, and at the outset asked him what his salary was. Mr. Cole, after a few moments' hesitation and in a low voice, answered that his salary for 1922 was $47,500 and for 1921 was $42,000. Although all of the oil companies whose officials have been subpoenaed so far have been asked to file a list of salaries paid, Mr. Cole was the first witness to be asked point blank as to how much he was receiving.

Liquor Forgeries Uttered by Scores

Minneapolis—Scores of forged liquor prescriptions found in Minneapolis drug stores were the work of counterfeiters, with headquarters in Chicago, Maurice Silverman, assistant to H. L. Duncan, Northwest Division director, said today.

An investigation in Chicago during last week which followed the check up of liquor records in Milwaukee disclosed that four series of one hundred prescriptions each were spurious and that the originals had been handled by Chicago persons, Mr. Silverman said.

The counterfeit prescriptions are not included in the 2,800 Wisconsin prescriptions, which were reported stolen by Milwaukee physicians.

FRANCE WANTS TO CUT DOWN DEBT TO UNITED STATES

These credits for reparations has been determined.

In other words, Mr. Hughes has already answered the French proposal. His remarks at New Haven last Friday night are a specific statement of the American government's position. What Germany can pay us is an indeterminate thing and would be so no matter whether the allies had any debts of their own to pay. If Germany can pay more than the first estimate, the United States wants Germany to be required to pay that sum. But if, as now conceded by Great Britain and France, the Germans can pay only twelve billion dollars in a period of 30 years, then the other twenty billion dollars of bonds are just so much worthless paper and constitute a drain on Germany's credit position and tend to weigh down the value of the twelve billion dollars of bonds.

Give us N. G. bonds

France is in effect asking the United States to accept twenty billion dollar bonds which are admitted by most of the allied nations to be worthless in exchange for five billion dollars of indebtedness to Great Britain and approximately three billion to the United States.

Build the view here is that there is no relationship between an uncollectible debt on the one hand and a perfectly valid debt on the other which France can pay. Nobody has said France cannot pay America the amount owed. It is true the French have called these debts to America made for political debt and have made no provision in their annual budget either for interest of sinking fund as the British have done in the case of their debt to America. On the other hand we have twelve billion dollars of reparations is assured to the allies, France will rise in value and her capacity to pay accordingly increased.

That's why there is an unwillingness here to confuse the two questions. The belief prevails that settlement of the reparations question should come first and that when it is accomplished there will be an immediate effect on the credit situation of the whole world and particularly on the capacity of both France and Great Britain to pay their debts and make purchases abroad.

Some Frenchmen believe it to be to their interest to force Germany to pay by taking possession of her resources. Great Britain publicly condemns such a proposal and the United States is standing squarely with the British on that question. Mr. Hughes position is perfectly clear.

Germany Not to Be Relieved

"We have no desire to see Germany relieved of her responsibility for the war," Mr. Hughes declared, "and to make reparation for the injuries due to her aggression. There is not the slightest desire that France shall lose any part of her just claims. On the other hand we do not want to see a prostrate Germany. There can be no economic recuperation in Europe unless Germany recovers. There must be hope and industry. There must be promise of reward if there is to be prosperity. We should view with better eyes measures which instead of producing reparations would threaten disaster."

Will France defy America and Great Britain and do nothing? The confident expectation here is that she will not and that at the last minute France will make a satisfactory compromise.

START YOUR 1923 With a Well-Regulated Plan!

Every well-organized business is founded on a budget system. A good business man would no more think of running his business without a budget than an architect would think of building a house without drafting plans.

The principles of the budget are just as applicable to the management of the home as to a business concern, and are just as important. The home budget should therefore be worked out with as much thoroughness and care.

The budget regulates spending and regulated spending makes for economy. The housewife must plan her own budget, but our 371 Department Stores, in all of which the policy is "low prices for high values," help her to economize.

$42,000 COLLECTED IN 1923 TAXES

Early Response Is Good—Many Paying Through Their Banks.

Tax collections recorded by City Treasurer W. J. Leonard up to noon Wednesday, the second day of the 1923 collection period, totaled approximately $42,000, or nearly 6 per cent of the total levy of $700,000. Many of the payments were in the form of checks, received by mail.

The money paid so far is divided as follows:

- Real estate, $27,000.
- Personal property, $2,000.
- Income, $3,800.
- Surtax, $1,300.

With all the banks receiving tax payments this year, a departure from the usual system, the figure of $42,000 does not represent the total amount paid to date, as many have remitted through their banks. A check-up with the banks has not yet been made by Mr. Leonard.

The treasurer's office is being kept open during the noon hour to accommodate taxpayers. The last day of the collection period is Jan. 31, although there is a possibility that it will be extended as in former years.

In making payments at either the treasurer's office or the banks, taxpayers are urged to take their notices with them.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, giving a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, itchy tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 35c.

DOCTORS WANTED TO OPERATE

Muskegon, Michigan—"After doctoring for eight or nine years with different sorts of doctor physicians without any relief at all, they said at last that medicine would not reach my case and I should have an operation. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers. I decided to see what it would do for me, and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was much better, the weakness stopped and the severe pains in my sides left me. I am now much stronger and can now work and work in the factory besides. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and give it all the praise."—Mrs. NELLIE QUILLON, 17 Morris St., Muskegon, Mich.

Women should heed such warning symptoms as nervousness, dizziness and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will seldom fail to help.

The Wall Flower

By MARION RUBINCAM

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Pandora Nicholson is shy to a painful degree. She is an odd little sensitive, neglected and who lives on a sort of poor relation with her Uncle Peter and Aunt Maude, and their daughter Gladys, who is loud, vulgar and popular.

No one understands or cares for her except her father who is a doctor there. She is afraid of people, cannot talk to them, never knows what to say. A quiet little girl, she begins with Morton Newberry, who is why she is when Gladys suddenly decides she wants Maude. From every other boy but Morton had been devoted to her. Eventually she becomes engaged to him. But he is a heartbreaker. She has begun a friendship with Gloria Gates when that rather exotic lady is visiting her.

THE MARRIAGE

Chapter 35.

The one moment of doubt happened the day Gladys and her mother left for the city-taking Grandma White, who needed constant looking after those days.

Wedding invitations were being issued. Wedding announcements were being sent to those too far off to receive invitations. Aunt Maude wanted the names of Jim's family—she wanted to know how they were. She was quite sure for them as relatives-in-law, and never asked any of them to call. "They're a shiftless lot—like Jim," she characterized them. "Not likely they'd be very family enough to know all about the wedding of her daughter."

"But I can't remember where half of them live," she complained, wondering where they might not know. She paddled about the kitchen—her seat in her flapping cloth slippers of a morning can only be described so—and pondered over the number of her neglected relatives.

She had to know! And no use asking Dora.

"Her mother must have had her name somewhere," she said. "I used to write down bright things Dora said when she was a baby, no doubt she'd have written down her relatives' addresses. Not likely they'd have moved—never had enough money or gumption to get out of one place into another."

She rambled along, talking half to herself, half to the air. "Not likely they'd send any presents, either," Gladys answered, up-setting her painful of soapy water into the sink and listening while it gurgled and bubbled its way down the waste pipe.

Aunt Maude looked curiously at her daughter now and then. She herself had been a little excited about her marriage to Peter, whose ever mercenary motives have might have been maked up with it. She was in love with Peter, and she thought he needed her firm hand.

Gladys stood there so placid, so unemotional! Her round cheeks were always pinky red, her full mouth only lost its peaceful look when her eyes crossed, her skin was so healthy it seemed almost warm and moist. She was showing too many matronly curves already, she was deep bosomed, large shouldered, broad of hip, she was less a girl engaged than a woman already long married.

But Aunt Maude, who only vaguely wished Gladys had "made a better match," returned to her puzzle about relatives. As Dora was out somewhere in the barns, she went to her room, wondering whether "that book," bright not be there. Being efficient, she searched bookshelves, then bureau drawers—and out it came, Jim's wife's old diary.

She turned the pages, hunting addresses. She read "There is some consolation in loneliness. It brings one closer to an appreciation of human things. I never saw the dawn so beautiful as it was—This wasn't an address."

How am I to grow into an old and detached woman an impersonal

Still a Girl

In bloom and beauty—due to clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper.

After 21 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19. My complexion is as soft and rosy as a debutante's.

You see me playing young girls' parts and envy me, perhaps. But you can do what I do. Any woman can enhance her beauty and preserve her bloom. I have arranged to supply you the very methods which did so much for me.

Clay is essential

The chief essential is complexion clay. Famous beauties have for ages used it. Without it, women cannot hope for beauty at its best. The users of facial clay stand out in any crowd.

French experts introduced it to me some 20 years ago. But the clay then used was crude and muddy. Now, after 20 years of scientific study, clay has been perfected.

First they found the best clay—a certain mineral-laden clay. Then they learned how to refine it to remove the useless mud. The modern clay is white, clean, dainty, and it doesn't stain.

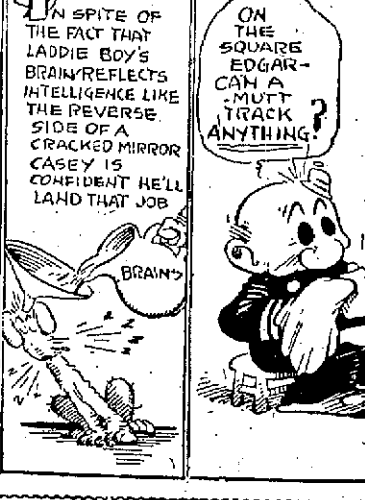

The science has found some added factors which bring multiplied results.

I use this modern clay—ten times better than the old-time clays. And I have had it prepared.

At all drug stores—50c and $1 per tube

Three city records for the 1922-23 bowling season in Janesville were broken by the City League Wednesday night, when the McNeil Hotels counted 2,860 for high three games, 1,000 for high single game and Cornell, of the hotel 750, hit the wooden mon for a tally of 659 in three games, his scores being 203, 215 and 241, an average of 220.

It was the biggest night of the season for record-smashing, the McNeils beating their former high three-game mark by 148 pins and the single game record by 80. Hitting 976 in their second game, they also bowled into second place for high three games.

The previous high individual three-game mark was Richard's 529 in the Knipp club league. Kresslin retains high single game, 245.

The Cronin Dairy company five advanced to fifth place in the league by defeating the West Side three straight while the Levin Union dropped to sixth when they lost three straight to the McNeil squad. The Gazette beat the Cadillacs and Knipp's Billiards by 100 pins in straight games.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

BARON COUBERTIN, founder of the international Olympic games, says America should be given greater consideration when it comes to staging future games. You can almost hear a general exclamation all over the United States: "Well, it's at times like this that the baron says it, astounding the manner in which Europe has treated the States with respect to the Olympics.

AS A MATTER of history, since the modern Olympic games were revived in 1896, the United States has been first place in track and field events at each of the four Olympic games. The baron says it, astounding the manner in which Europe has treated the States with respect to the Olympics.

THUS, since the games are going back over the rounds, the United States is the logical place for 1928. It might be true that such countries as Denmark, Finland, Germany, Italy and Austria should be given a chance at it, although Germany is out of it for failure to participate in 1920. However, the fact that by the time the next games are held it will have been 20 years since America had the contests, points that the Europeans should travel westward across the seas for a change.

SO FAR as records go, the United States cleaned up in 1920. It has a wide margin. Of the 436 points possible the U. S. garnered 213. The states won nine firsts, 12 seconds, nine thirds, 10 fourths, nine fifths and five sixths. In addition, the U. S. records set since 1920, the United States has made 21 of them.

THERE is still another angle for bringing the games to America. This does not mean particularly allotting them to the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom, so must South America, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand should be thought of a little by the Olympics body and it might be a wise thing to stage the games in one of those countries.
